Soy Sauce Options

When it comes to your soy sauce packets, don't settle for chemically synthesized "soy sauce," which has a harsh flavor and color that mask and overpower foods. Kikkoman Soy Sauces are all naturally brewed right here in the USA, from just four all-natural ingredients: American-grown soybeans and wheat, 100% pure water and salt. They are fermented in the centuries-old Kikkoman tradition and aged like a fine wine. Perfect for everything from Asian foods to all-American favorites.

Kikkoman Preservative-Free

Soy Sauce: For operators who want to offer all-natural products, this soy sauce is naturally brewed, just like regular Kikkoman Soy Sauce, but made with no added sodium benzoate or other preservatives. It's shelf-stable for up to 12 months, thanks to our innovative aluminized plastic film packets.

Kikkoman Less Sodium

Preservative-Free Soy Sauce: Made from our naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce, but with 37% less sodium and no added sodium benzoate or other preservatives. It's shelf-stable for up to 12 months. Kikkoman's proprietary dialysis process removes sodium after natural brewing is complete—so it's never watered down or diluted, like some brands.

The eye-catching packet design adds an attractive finish to any takeout presentation.

Kikkoman Teriyaki Marinade & Sauce is an irresistible, sweet-savory blend of naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce, wine, sugar and authentic Japanese seasonings.
